

Over and Out

By

A lost hiker's only chance to be saved is a high-functioning autistic boy and a two-way radio.

FADE IN:

1 EXT. FOREST CLEARING - SUNSET

A young boy with messy hair, a colorful sweater, and jeans tucked into his socks, sprints into a clearing surrounded by dense forest.

There is a FIRE WATCH TOWER in the center of the clearing. The sun is setting behind the tower.

It was taller than any of the trees surrounding it.

The boy, TOMMY YESTER, walks towards it with uneven steps.

Cupping his hands around his mouth, Tommy yells at the tower.

TOMMY

HELLO! Is anyone up there? Dad?

Silence.

TOMMY (CONT'D)

Dad! I'm sick of playing hide and seek!

All he hears in return are crickets and the WIND through the trees.

The boy begins to ascend the 6 sets of metal stairs. One hand grips the rusted railing and the other begins to rub his earlobe.

2 INT. FIRE WATCH TOWER - EVENING

At the top of the tower, Tommy turns the doorknob, the wooden door CREAKING open slowly.

There is no one in sight.

Inside is a large, round, and table-like map, as well as an emergency two-way radio with a microphone. A thick layer of dust covers both.

Tommy inspects the radio, pressing the power button, surprised when it turns on with a crackling HISS.

He twists and turns the knobs, only receiving loud static.

TOMMY

Um, can anyone hear me? Mom? Dad?

Tommy begins to rock slightly back and forth on his heels.

He covers an ear with his free hand.

TOMMY (CONT'D)
Dad! I don't want to play anymore, I just want to go home.

Tommy freezes when the static stops, and he, at last, hears a man's voice.

MIKE
(Over radio)

Does anyone copy? I repeat, does anyone copy? My name is Mike Cornell.
C O R-

Tommy grabs the microphone, holding it too close to his mouth.

TOMMY
Is someone there?! My name is Tommy James Yester and I'm looking for my dad and-

MIKE
Woah! Slow down, slow down. Who are you? Is this a kid? Over.

TOMMY
Over what?

MIKE
What?

TOMMY
You said over, what's over what?

MIKE
(Chuckling)
That's how people talk on radios, you say over when you're done with what you're saying. You say over and out when you're both done talking. Over.

TOMMY
Oh, okay, that makes sense. Uh, over!

MIKE
Cool, good deal. So kid, is there an adult you can hand the radio to? Over.
